

National Constitution Day

Raidighi College's halls resonated with the echoes of democracy as the Department of Political Science and IQAC joined forces to celebrate National Constitution Day. The air crackled with intellectual anticipation as two distinguished voices took the stage, their lectures weaving a tapestry of history, values, and the enduring relevance of India's fundamental law.

First, a seasoned jurist, with a twinkle in his eye and wisdom in his words, unraveled the intricate threads of the Constitution's creation, highlighting the struggles and triumphs of its architects. He painted a vivid picture of the debates, the compromises, and the unwavering commitment to forge a document that would uphold justice, equality, and freedom for all citizens.

Following this, a renowned political scholar shed light on the dynamic relationship between the Constitution and contemporary India. She explored the challenges of balancing tradition and progress, upholding fundamental rights amidst evolving social realities, and ensuring an inclusive democracy in a diverse nation. Her words, like a guiding compass, pointed towards the future, urging the audience to become active participants in upholding the spirit of the Constitution.

The ensuing discussion, fueled by the scholars' insights, crackled with passionate engagement. Students, faculty, and invited guests exchanged perspectives, debating interpretations, analyzing current socio-political issues through the lens of the Constitution. The seminar wasn't just an academic exercise; it was a living dialogue, a vibrant testament to the enduring power of India's fundamental law to spark debate, inspire action, and guide the nation's trajectory.

As the echoes of the closing remarks faded, one thing was clear: Raidighi College's National Constitution Day celebration wasn't just a one-day event; it was a catalyst for lifelong engagement. It ignited a passion for understanding and upholding the values enshrined in the Constitution, empowering each individual to become a guardian of democracy, one informed debate, one thoughtful action at a time.
