Seminar on World TB Day by Microbiology Department of Raidighi College

Department of Microbiology at Raidighi College organized an informative webinar on "World TB Day" on 24-03-2023. The session aimed to shed light on the increasing interest surrounding TB and their potential health hazards. Principal's short speech, followed by a few teachers presentations shed the light on this particular disease. Later half of the seminar was full of students' presentations.

Overall, the Raidighi College Department of Microbiology's seminar on TB Day proved to be a valuable learning experience for all attendees. By bringing together departmental renowned experts in this field and an eager audience of 48 participants, the event successfully disseminated knowledge and sparked interest in this rapidly evolving field of scientific research.
